

Leprechaun Limericks

and other St. Patrick's Day Tomfoolery from Michael "Kiss Me, I think I'm Irish" Varma

Irish Limericks

There once was a young man named Sean,
Whose wish came from a sly leprechaun,
To be surrounded by dough,
Was what he wanted, so,
In six months he was born as a fawn.

If you don't have a Valentine
Throw back a pint or glass of wine
Toast to your mates
Who, too, don't have dates
By St. Patrick's all will be fine.

There once was on leprechaun
Who lived in a stump on my lawn
He had hoarded much gold
Hidden safely, I'm told
For he feared that someday it'd be gone

Irish Toasts

May the roof above us never fall in,
and may we friends beneath it never fall out.

You're my best friend and like a four leaf clover:
hard to find and lucky to have.

May your pockets be heavy and your heart be light,
May good luck pursue you each morning and night.

Irish Riddles

Q: Why can't you borrow money from a leprechaun?
A: Because he's always short.

Q: Why would you never iron a four-leaf clover?
A: Because you shouldn't press your luck.

Q: Does drinking green beer count as a vegetable?
A: Yes!

Q: Did ya hear about the Irishwoman with 5 legs?
A: Her knickers fitted her like a glove!

Irish Knock-Knock

Knock Knock
Who's there?
Irish!
Irish Who?
Irish you a happy St. Patrick's Day.

Knock, Knock
Who's there?
Warren
Warren who
Warren anything green today?

Q: Why do frogs like St. Patrick's Day?
A: Because they're always wearing green.

Q: What do leprechauns love to barbecue?
A: Short ribs!

Q: Why wear shamrocks on St. Patrick's Day?
A: Regular rocks are too heavy.

Q: Do leprechauns make good secretaries?
A: Yes, they're great at shorthand!

Irish Proverbs

- ♣ A good laugh and a long sleep are the two best cures.
- ♣ Your feet will take you where your heart is
- ♣ What seems to us as bitter trials are often blessings in disguise.
- ♣ You'll never plough a field by turning it over in your mind.
- ♣ You've got to do your own growing, no matter how tall your grandfather was.

Irish Jokes

Reilly went to trial for armed robbery. The jury foreman came out and announced, "Not guilty." "Oh my!" shouted Reilly. "Does that mean I get to keep the money?"

Two Irishmen were getting ready to go on a camping trip. First one said, "I'm taking a gallon of whiskey just in case of rattlesnake bites. What are you taking?" "Rattlesnakes."

Two Irishmen stumbled up the country road in the dark. First one said, "We're in a graveyard and here's the stone of a man lived to the age of 103!" "Anybody we knew?" "No, 'twas someone named 'Miles from Dublin'!"

An Englishman walks into a pub and says, "I've got some great Irish jokes." "Before you start," said the big bloke in the corner, "You need to know I'm Irish." "Don't worry, I'll tell them slowly."

An Irishman was flustered not being able to find a parking space in a large mall's parking lot, "Lord," he prayed, "I can't stand this. If you open a space up for me, I swear I'll give up drinking me whiskey, and I promise to go to church every Sunday." Suddenly, the clouds parted and the sun shone on an empty parking spot. Without hesitation, the man said, "Never mind, I found one."

An Irishman gets a job painting white lines on the highway. Monday he completes three miles, Tuesday two miles and Wednesday he paints only one mile. The foreman calls Paddy into his office and asks, "Why do you paint less and less each day?" "Well sir, the paint bucket was getting further away."

"How far is it to the next village?" asked the American tourist. "It's about seven miles," guessed the leprechaun, "But it's only five if you run!"
